The Buzz this week ...

Welcome back, I hope that you had a lovely half term. It is hard to believe that we are now in the final term of the academic year, with still so many activities and events to go. It has been good to see the children settle quickly back into the routines and expectations of school.

May I start by taking this opportunity to thank all children, staff and parents for the part that you have all played in ensuring that school has remained fully operational since we returned from lockdown in March; we all need to celebrate the fact that all class bubbles have remained open during this time! Well done and thank you everyone. Thank you too for your ongoing support, encouragement, patience and understanding as we have continued to operate with Covid restrictions in place; we do recognise the impact that these restrictions have on your daily lives and are grateful to you for the changes that you have made, thank you.

We are on the final bend of another remarkable year at Bovington and as always, there are a multitude of wonderful learning opportunities going on in classrooms. Please go to our Facebook page to see what Year 4 has been up to this week.

Huge congratulations to all of our pupils who completed some tests at the end of last term for internal assessment purposes. The teachers have all reported how sensibly and calmly they approached these. As you will know, the Government do not require schools to undertake statutory assessment this year, but like many other schools we have chosen to use some alternative tests to support transition; for Year 6 this will help their secondary school teachers and for all other children it will help gap analysis for the remainder of this year and into the next academic year.

We hope you have a lovely weekend and the sun continues to shine!

Attendance Matters

We are experiencing a number of children more recently who have been absent from school with no reason provided. It is paramount that we know the reason for your child not attending school. We are also experiencing difficulty when trying to contact some parents. Where the school has left a message for you, please make sure that you reply and contact us to provide further information. If your child is absent, you MUST contact the school either by telephone (01929 462744) or by emailing the school office@bovington-aspirations.org. Any absences without suitable reason will be classed as unauthorised. Thank you for your cooperation with this matter.

Change of Pick Up Arrangements

Please notify the class teacher or a member of the office staff:

If you know that your child is going to be collected by someone not on your child's authorised person pick up list you will be collecting your child early for an appointment giving details of the time of pick up and/ or change of going home arrangements. Please also ensure your 'authorised persons pick up information is up to date'.
